

Share Your Wildlife Warden Story!

We're updating our website and would love to include lots more of your own personal stories about being a Wildlife Warden. Your stories really help bring the WW scheme to life – they help others to find out about what it's really like to be involved and why it matters.

Along with the website, we'd love to share some of your stories on social media to raise awareness and maybe encourage others to join the group (just let me know if you'd rather opt out of this).

Your stories are also an important way for us to show funders what the Wildlife Warden scheme is all about. Hearing directly from you makes it so much easier to show the difference we're making — personal stories really highlight our ripple effects and help make sure we can keep going.

We're not asking for anything long or fancy – maybe just 10 or 15 mins of your time. A few bullet points, a short paragraph, or even one sentence is perfect. Whatever you feel like sharing, we'd really appreciate it.

To help you get started, we've put together a few prompts — you can answer as many as you like or do something completely different, it's up to you!

- How has being part of the WW scheme helped you?
This could be something personal, something it helped you to achieve in your parish, or anything else that stands out to you!
- What made you feel passionate about helping wildlife?
- What do you most enjoy about being a Wildlife Warden?
- Do you have any highlights to share? A project you're proud of, a personal win, or something unexpected that happened along the way.

We'd also love for you to share:

- A photo of what you've been doing or even better - you doing it! A photo will bring your story to life.

Thanks so much for your time and help – the more stories we can gather, the better! Even if you feel like you've only just started or haven't done as much as you'd hoped just yet, we'd still really value hearing your thoughts. Every story will help us paint a fuller picture of what the Wildlife Wardens are all about!

Note: I will share your first name and parish alongside your story but just let me know if you'd prefer me not to.

I'd also be more than happy to edit bullet points or notes if that would be helpful for you.
